

Elective Course Options for Communication Studies Majors – Spring 2025

Important Notes:

1. If a course is required for your Communication Studies major or sequence [Organizational and Leadership; Public Culture and Advocacy Communication (formerly Political Communication); Interpersonal Communication], it cannot also count as an elective in your Communication Studies plan of study. Requirements for your specific major sequence are available in the University Catalog.
2. Double check all prerequisites on Course Finder to make sure you are eligible to enroll in a particular course.
3. Courses not included on this list are major-blocked for students in other Communication majors as of this time. If you are interested in these courses, you are welcome to submit an override request. Requests will be reviewed around finals week, so it is recommended that you enroll in an alternate course.
4. Override requests into full courses are not considered. If you are in immediate need of a specific course for graduation, please contact your academic advisor.

Elective Course Options:

- COM 201: Communication and Social Issues
- COM 202: Persuasive Communication
- COM 225: Nonverbal Communication
- COM 226: Classical Rhetoric
- COM 240: Visual Communication
- COM 259: Strategic Communication in Sports
- COM 303: Controversy and Contemporary Society
- COM 313: African American Rhetoric
- COM 318: Social Dynamics of Communication Technology
- COM 320: Mass Media: Cultural Criticism and Problems
- COM 323: Theory and Research in Small Group Communication
- COM 324: Theory and Research in Persuasion
- COM 325: Theory and Research in Interpersonal Communication
- COM 329: Organizational Communication
- COM 366: Web Production & Design
- COM 367: Ethical Problems in Mass Media
- COM 370: Psychology of Language
- COM 371: International Political Communication
- COM 372: Theory and Research in Intercultural Communication
- COM 374: News Literacy
- COM 375: Communication and Leadership
- COM 398A03: Internships for Communication Studies majors (contact Tom Lamonica, talamon@ilstu.edu, for more details)