

GRADUATE INTERNSHIP

WHAT

COM 498

WHERE

On campus – in the SOC!

IMPORTANT INFO:

The SOC is Seeking a Graduate Student to Tutor Students Individually and in Small Groups in Com Theory (COM 111), Research Methods in Com (COM 297), and in General Writing. Only One Com 498 Opportunity is Available Each Semester; If More than One Student Demonstrates Interest, this Becomes a Competitive Selection Process. Qualified Students Should Apply Before Overrides are Due.

Applicants Should be Comfortable with Theory and Research Enough to be able to Teach the Content, and Must Demonstrate Patience with Students Challenged by the Material. Applicants Must be Punctual, Reliable, and Well-Prepared for Weekly Tutoring Sessions. Applicants Must Exhibit a Helpful, Student-Focused Attitude.

THE DETAILS

1-3 CREDITS

Choose your credits Tasks vary based on desired credit hours

SEMI- FLEXIBLE HOURS

You set up your semester-long schedule; some evening hours will be required.

HOW TO APPLY

Provide a letter of interest and your upcoming course schedule, to Jodi Hallsten Lyczak at:
jlhalls@ilstu.edu

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY

This is a fantastic CV hit for someone pursuing a teaching job or a Doc program GTA.